ASPIRANTEX 2006

A ASPIRANTEX 2006 foi um exercício da Marinha do Brasil com o objetivo de familiarizar os aspirantes a oficial com as várias tarefas realizadas no dia-a-dia da vida no mar. Entre as tarefas estão as manobras dos navios dentro da Força-Tarefa, ensinamentos teóricos, combate anti-submarino e combate antiaéreo.

Com o intuito de treinar a capacidade de ataque naval e a coordenação conjunta com a Marinha, a Força Aérea Brasileira criou a FAE102, que seria a unidade responsável pelas aeronaves P-95A do 4º/7ºGAv e A-1 do 1º/16ºGAv no exercício.
